Empowering auditors and auditees with resources to optimize outcomes

On-demand eLearning is not just a learning tool, it is your go-to resources to support and enhance your expertise and delivery and serves as a knowledge refresher resource. Imagine having all the information you need at your fingertips.

Why subscribe to on-demand eLearning platform?

- On-demand eLearning courses increase retention of knowledge by 25-60% (Research Institute of America).
- With on demand eLearning, participants learn 5 times more material without increasing time spent on training (IBM).
- To manage risks of nonconformities (NCR). Based on BSI's research:
 - 10% of NCR are caused by human error.
 - 6% of NCR are caused by lack of understanding of the standards requirements as knowledge diminish over time.
 - Other causes for NCR include ineffective implementation of process (8%), root cause analysis and corrective actions insufficient (6%) and internal audits were not implemented correctly (5%).
 - Therefore, even experts need refresher on key elements of international standards at times.

Benefits:

For auditors and auditees, staying updated on ISO standards and maintaining a sharp skill set is crucial in an evolving regulatory landscape. Here is why subscribing to on-demand resources is a valuable investment:

- Continuous updates on ISO Standards: ISO standards are regularly revised to reflect new risks, technologies, and best practices. On-demand platforms offer immediate access to updates, ensuring that auditors and auditees are always align with the latest changes without the need for attending scheduled workshops or seminars.
- Efficient knowledge refreshers: Even seasoned auditors and auditees need periodic refreshers on key principles. On-demand learning allows auditors and auditees to review materials at their own pace, strengthening their command over topics like ISO 9001, ISO 27001, and other relevant standards without disrupting their workflow.

- Just-in-time learning: In an audit situation where a new challenge arises, auditors and auditees can quickly access specific modules or resources to address immediate needs. This real-time learning helps auditors and auditees stay agile, informed, and prepared to tackle unexpected situations effectively.
- Sustainable learning: On-demand resources are available anytime and from any location, allowing auditors and auditees to save on travel and downtime while still gaining the knowledge needed to perform their roles effectively. This also contributes to Greenhouse Gas emissions reduction.
- Interactive and engaging content: BSI on-demand courses offer interactive quizzes, case studies, and real-world scenarios tailored to ISO audits, making the learning process engaging and more aligned with actual audit experiences.
