Pedagogical objectives

You will develop an understanding of how ISO/IEC 27001 can provide a systematic framework to improve overall organizational performance when managing information.

Upon completion of the course, you will appreciate how consistent and predictable results can be more effectively and efficiently delivered by the promotion/application of the process approach, within ISO/IEC 27001, and how this help in meeting requirements.

Risk-based thinking has been included in the requirements of ISO/IEC 27001, and you will benefit from an understanding of this approach; especially when defining the rigor and degree of formality needed to plan and control an Information Security Management System.

You will also be able to recognize the new harmonized approach, developed by ISO, to improve alignment among its International Standards for management systems.

Skills to be acquired

Upon completion of this training, you will be able to:

- Explain key elements of a management system implementation process

- Identify a typical framework for implementing ISO/IEC 27001 following the PDCA cycle

- Conduct a base line review of the organizations current position with regard to ISO/IEC 27001

- Interpret the requirements of ISO/IEC 27001 from an implementation perspective in the context of their organization

- Implement key elements of ISO/IEC 27001

Targeted audience

- Those who will be involved in advising top management on the introduction of ISO/IEC 27001 into an organization

- Designed for those with information security responsibility

- Those planning to implement a system or new to managing a system

- Anyone working with information security, including consultants
